NAMOA Presidents Report, August 2025

Review for Australian Amusements

Dear Members and Friends,

What a year it has been for our amusement industry! From bustling local family entertainment centres to the hard-working street operators keeping machines running in venues across the country, we've seen a lot of change, challenge, and opportunity.

The Move to Cashless —A Game Changer

One of the biggest shifts this year has been the continued move to cashless payment systems. Many of you have embraced card-based solutions like Nayax in both your centres and on your street sites. And it's easy to see why:

- No more coin jams (and fewer service calls)
- No more expensive collections and bank deposits
- No more fighting with banks that don't want to take coins or cash

Going cashless has become not just a convenience but a cost-saving strategy. It's making life easier for operators and letting us focus on running great games and attractions rather than counting coins and clearing jams. With more payment systems entering the market, I encourage everyone to explore the options and find what works best for your business.

Insights from Overseas Trade Shows

Trade shows continue to be a fantastic source of ideas and innovation. We've seen a big shift towards Chinese and Taiwanese crane games, and some operators are even opening crane-only centres. It's an interesting trend—but as costs for stock, rent, power, and insurance rise, it will be worth watching to see how sustainable these setups are in the long term.

The Chinese shows in particular have impressed with improved products and creative designs, and it's clear that innovation is happening there at a rapid pace. More and more US companies are showing up at these events to secure partnerships and keep up with the momentum from the Chinese. With the US dollar where it is, we all have to consider costs carefully before updating machines, but the quality and variety overseas is better than ever.

Looking Ahead

Our industry continues to adapt and evolve. Cashless systems, new machine innovations, and smarter business practices are all helping us run more efficient, sustainable operations. I want to thank all of you—our operators, suppliers, and partners—for keeping the fun alive for families across Australia.

Here's to another lot of exciting changes, new opportunities, and, of course, happy players!

Warm regards,

Tony Argeri
President NAMOA

Message from the "Substitute" Editor

A BIG apology if this edition is not up to the usual expected standards. Unfortunately, Ed Partridge is still ill, and we are unsure when he will be available to produce a fresh Collector. "GET WELL SOON, ED"

A "Thank You" to all who contributed to this edition in the way of Advertisements and Articles. Also, many thanks to Erica from Fidget Midea for collating my entire set of documents into a readable form. (see their Ad). They have been most helpful and I appreciate Erica's input and advice.

If any of you would care to contribute to the next edition, either by Ad, Article, Letter to the Editor etc., I would be very happy to receive your offerings. Tell me what you want to read and what your thoughts are.

I have taken the liberty of including a page advertisement from my own family (with permission from our Secretary). It is about my talented son-in-law Brendon Walmsley who has just released a new CD – please check it out. He is a winner of several Golden Guitars from Tamworth and extremely talented as also are my 2 Grandchildren = Flynn (21) and Micah (17). Brendon is married to my younger daughter Carmen.

My best wishes to all NAMOA's members and friends

Regards

BRENDON WALMSLEY

ROAD ^{TO} RIVERLEIGH

Brendon Walmsley stands as one of Australian country music's most respected singer-songwriters, celebrated for his heartfelt lyrics and compelling storytelling. A Star Maker winner and three-time CMAA Golden Guitar recipient, Brendon's songs go beyond the surface — offering rich, relatable narratives about life's highs and lows, the power of love and family, and the quiet strength found in faith.

Now, after more than 20 years since his last full-length release, Brendon returns with Road To Riverleigh — his fourth studio album and perhaps his most personal work to date. Woven through each track is a deep sense of place, resilience, and conviction, showcasing a songwriter whose life experience has only deepened his craft.

During the early 2000s, Brendon was a familiar name on the Australian country scene, touring nationally with artists like Troy Cassar-Daley, Beccy Cole, Adam Harvey, Adam Brand, Tania Kernaghan and Melinda Schneider. His early albums, released through Compass Bros Records, earned both critical acclaim and commercial success.

In recent years, Brendon shifted his focus to family and his role leading music and production at his local church in Toowoomba. Yet music never left his life. He continued to write, perform at festivals and special events, and even explored musical theatre — including writing and starring in a stage production inspired by his beloved song Rose & Rodeo.

Now, with Road To Riverleigh marking a new chapter, Brendon is once again bringing his songs to life on stage — connecting with audiences through authentic performances that are as moving as the stories he tells.

DUNGEONS & DRAGONS

THE TYRANT'S EYE

DUNGEONS AND DRAGONS PINBALL

In celebration of 50 years of the World's Greatest Role-playing Game, Stern Pinball players worldwide will be brought on an epic and thrilling journey as they adventure into the forgotten realms, featuring iconic enemies, including a red dragon, gelatinous cube, mimic, Sammaster the lich, Xanathar the beholder, an owl-bear, and locations including those in Faerûn such as Arabel and Westgate.

DUNGEONS & DRAGONS: The Tyrant's Eye pinball games are available in Pro, Premium, and Limited Edition (LE) models and feature artwork by prolific artist Vincent Proce, music from world-renowned composer Cris Velasco, and voiced by a talented cast including Michael Dorn, Kevin Smith, Luke Gyax, Chris Prynoski, Brendon Small, Gerard Way, Matthew Mercer, Laura Bailey, Marisha Ray, Anthony Carboni, and Mica Burton.

In Stern's DUNGEONS & DRAGONS: The Tyrant's Eye pinball games, players are chosen members of the Dragonsshield Guild, trying to defeat the dragon queen Tiamat, who is hatching a plan to rise again, triggering the War of Dragons, with Xanathar, Balinor and Sammaster all fighting for power. Players will experience the game's fantasy world under the glass, fusing pinball with the iconic franchise like never before.

Battle Rath the Relentless, the red dragon, the most advanced animatronic mech in pinball, intelligently reacts to player action with multi-axis motion and features omnidirectional impact sensing technology. Voiced by the iconic Michael Dorn, players will attempt to defeat Rath the Relentless with pinballs and by hitting the 3-bank target, steal its treasure. When Rath the Relentless breathes his magnificent fire, multiple pinballs shoot from its mouth but be prepared. Players can activate a metal shield between the flippers to not only defend against attacks but also assist with playfield shots.

Enjoy mysterious and exciting features by navigating through hidden passageways, experience an electromagnet-powered gelatinous cube that freezes the pinball, and explore dynamic dungeon levels that are accessed through a disappearing playfield trap door. Other features include Fizmo's store that allows players to acquire unique items, a treasure chest that unleashes mimic monsters, and more secrets to uncover.

Roll the dice with randomness as players unlock where shots and choices control the path of the game's campaign, driving toward different story endings. Each path is different for players, spanning from characters to trinkets to weekly items and more; once the game campaign has concluded, additional characters will be unlocked.

DUNGEONS & DRAGONS:

The Tyrant's Eye is in a beautiful package with Stern's ever-expanding Insider Connected platform, which enables players to interact with the game and a global network of players in multiple ways, including ongoing code updates from Stern Pinball to extend and improve the experience over time. Through Insider Connected, players can choose to pick up where they left off with Stern's new PinSave System, including character experience points, inventory items, and game campaign progress. For a more traditional pinball experience, players can start each game without saved progress. Players can also play cooperatively, sharing game progress together along their pinball adventure. Registration for Insider Connected is available at insider.sternpinball.com/ or in the Insider Connected App. Download it today on iOS and Android.

To honour the original release of DUNGEONS & DRAGONS (D&D) from 1974, the Limited

JOHN WICK PINBALL

Stern Pinball, Inc. announces its newest line of pinball games featuring the world's greatest assassin, John Wick. Created in collaboration with Lionsgate, players will experience the thrilling and action-packed billion-dollar grossing John Wick franchise with film-inspired mechanical features and artwork alongside Stern's all-new dynamic AI combat system. John Wick pinball games are available in Pro, Premium, and Limited Edition (LE) models. The John Wick film franchise is produced by Thunder Road's Basil Iwanyk and Erica Lee, along with franchise director Chad Stahelski through his 87Eleven Entertainment production company.

In Stern's John Wick pinball games, players step into the role of the world's greatest assassin as he fights to escape his past. As the titular character, players can engage in high-speed car chases and fast-action drifting across the playfield, which incorporates models and artwork inspired by iconic locations from the franchise, including the New York Continental Hotel and the Red Circle Club, all set against a dramatically edge lit New York City skyline. Players can also open John Wick's weapons crate to reveal a hidden shot target path to retrieve an array of weapons. Players must use the sculpted Blood Oath Marker carefully – or risk the consequences. Players need to survive other assassins, complete jobs for the legendary Factions of the High Table, and eventually take on John Wick's "Special Assignment!"

To raise the stakes, John Wick pinball introduces Stern's all-new dynamic AI combat system, an innovation that brings the frenetic combat of the legendary films to the game. The Stern team has created a primitive video game AI system to control the enemy lights on the playfield, setting the John Wick pinball games apart from prior pinball machines, where all lights were controlled by player actions, timers, and random number generations. In this new AI combat system, enemy icons are responsive to player behaviour and will illuminate dynamically around the playfield to challenge the player. The enemies move tactically with this dynamic software to counter player objectives, creating a unique challenge in each game session. The system also features a new action video player that dynamically reflects player action – as you defeat three enemies, you'll see video clips of John Wick doing the same in the films!

Accompanying the high-quality film and audio assets woven into the gameplay, John Wick pinball games will include custom narration by critically acclaimed actor Ian McShane as Winston and an original score composed by Charlie Benante of Anthrax and Pantera fame. Additionally, pieces of John Wick's iconic suits used in connection with the production of the films will be included as a franchise artefact in the LE models, courtesy of Lionsgate. The John Wick pinball games will feature original neo-noir style paintings illustrated by acclaimed artist, Randy Martinez.

“Inspired by one of the most iconic and thrilling film franchises of our time, we’re releasing John Wick pinball games with the most advanced technology we’ve ever created,”

—said Seth Davis, President & CEO of Stern Pinball,

“We can’t wait for players to try out our new combat system and experience the action.”

John Wick pinball games include Stern’s award-winning Insider Connected system, which enables players to interact with the game and a global network of players in multiple ways. Through Insider Connected, players can track progress, earn new game-specific Achievements, take on special John Wick Quests and complete Faction Contracts to increase their Assassin ranking.

Insider Connected also provides an operator-focused tool-set to drive location play through a better player experience, game location discovery, location leader boards, performance analysis, automatic code updates, and remote diagnostics for easier maintenance. Registration for Insider Connected is available at insider.sternpinball.com/ or in the Insider Connected App. Download it today on iOS and Android.

Limited to 1,000 games globally, the highly collectible Limited Edition model includes the Expression Lighting System and Speaker Expression Lighting. These integrated lighting systems are synchronized to custom light shows specifically designed for every song and dynamically responsive to game events. The LE version also includes a full-colour “Stained Glass” mirrored backglass, full-colour reflective brushed silver foil high-definition cabinet decals with hand-drawn artwork by Randy Martinez, exclusive custom powder-coated pinball armour, a custom designer-autographed bottom arch, upgraded audio system, anti-reflection pinball playfield glass, shaker motor, a sequentially numbered plaque, and a signed Certificate of Authenticity.

TAX & SUPER CHECKLIST

With the end of the financial year coming up, now's a great time to get on top of your tax and super. A little planning before 30 June can help you make the most of any opportunities to reduce tax, boost your super, and avoid last-minute surprises.

This checklist outlines key things to consider and action before the financial year wraps up. It's a simple way to stay on track and finish the year with confidence.

TAX CHECKLIST

Here are some practical things to consider before 30 June to help you tidy up your tax position and potentially reduce your bill.

Bad Debts

If you're running a business, write off any bad debts that won't be recovered before 30 June so they can be claimed.

Employee Bonuses and Director Fees

Planning to pay employee bonuses or director fees? Make sure they're confirmed in writing and communicated to recipients by 30 June, even if payment happens later.

Charitable Donations

Bring forward any planned donations and have the highest earning family member make the gift. Remember:

- Donations must be registered to charities.
- They can't create a tax loss.
- Keep receipts.

Prepay Interest on Loans

If you have a loan for an income-generating asset (like an investment property), consider prepaying interest before 30 June to bring forward the deduction.

Claim Work-Related or Business Costs

Bring forward costs such as repairs, stationery, or supplies by 30 June 2025. These small deductions can add up. This applies to all taxpayers, not just businesses.

Prepay Expenses

You can claim prepaid expenses, such as insurance or subscriptions. Where the expense is:

- Under $1,000 – all taxpayers can claim the expense
- Over $1,000 – fully deductible if you're a small business if the expense relates to a period of 12 months or less. Note that this is also available if it's a non-business expense of individuals, such as work related expenses or rental property costs.

Write Off Old Stock

If you hold stock, write off any damaged, outdated or unsellable items before 30 June 2025.

Review Assets & Depreciation

Small businesses (turnover under $10m) can immediately deduct assets under $20,000 that were acquired from 1 July 2024 and ready to use by 30 June 2025.

Also, remove any old equipment from your depreciation schedule if it's been sold, thrown out, or is no longer usable.

Electric Vehicles

If your business provides an electric vehicle to an employee, you may be eligible for depreciation deductions and Fringe Benefits Tax (FBT) concessions.

Defer Income

If possible, delay receiving income (like issuing invoices) until after 30 June to push tax into next year.

Offset Capital Gains

Selling an asset this year with a profit? You could crystallise capital losses before 30 June to offset that gain.

Watch out: 'Wash sales' (selling and rebuying the same asset just to get a loss) are not allowed.

Continued over...

Defer Capital Gains

If you're planning to sell an asset for a gain, consider delaying until after 30 June if it makes sense for your broader financial situation.

Personal Services Income (PSI)

If you're working in your own name (like a contractor or freelancer), check that your income qualifies as a business under PSI rules.

Business Losses

If your business runs at a loss, you may not be able to claim that loss if you carry on a "non-commercial business" - unless you pass one of the ATO's tests (eg, income, asset, or profit test).

Company Loans to Shareholders (Division 7A)

If you've borrowed from your company, the loan needs to be properly documented, put on commercial terms and repaid.

If repaying through dividends, make sure the dividends are legally declared and paid prior to 1 July (with appropriate documentation in place).

Trust Distributions

If you're a trustee, resolutions must be made before 30

June to properly distribute income to beneficiaries. You also need to let your beneficiaries know what they're entitled to.

Beneficiary TFN Reporting

If new beneficiaries gave you their TFN between April-June, you must lodge a TFN report by 31 July 2025.

Motor Vehicle Logbook

Planning to claim car expenses using the logbook method?

Start now and track 12 weeks of usage (can span over two tax years). Also record your odometer readings.

Private Health Insurance

Make sure you have the right level of cover to avoid the Medicare Levy Surcharge, especially if your family situation has changed (eg, new baby, separation, adult children moving off your policy).

Check Your Insurance Cover

Review your personal and business insurance needs. Not only does this provide peace of mind, some policies may also be tax deductible, especially if prepaid.

Review Your Business Structure

Is your current setup still the right one? Changes in income, family, or risk levels may mean a trust, company, or restructure could be more effective. We can help you weigh up your options.

SUPER CHECKLIST

Make the most of your super before 30 June 2025 with these smart, simple tips.

Check Your Contribution Limits

Before adding more to super, log in to myGov > ATO > Super > Information to check how much you've already contributed.

Tip: If you're in an SMSF, your info may not be up to date in myGov, but we can help you work this out.

Add to Super and Claim a Tax Deduction

You may be able to make a personal deductible contribution and claim it at tax time.

To be eligible:

- You must be over 18
- If you're 67-74, you must meet the work test or qualify for a work test exemption
- If you're over 75, you must contribute within 28 days of your birthday month

Don't forget: To claim a tax deduction, submit a Notice of Intent to Claim a Deduction to your super fund and get their confirmation before lodging your tax return or making withdrawals, rollovers, or starting a pension.

Continued over...

Use Up Unused Contribution Limits

Haven't used your full concessional contribution cap in recent years? You may be able to catch up using the carry-forward rule if your total super balance is under $500,000 on 30 June 2024.

Tip – Unused limits from 2019–20 expire after 30 June 2025 so don't miss out.

Split Contributions with Your Spouse

You can split up to 85% of your 2023–24 concessional (pre-tax) contributions with your spouse before 1 July 2025.

This is a great way to even out your balances and plan ahead for retirement.

Note – To use this strategy, your spouse must be under their preservation age or aged 64 or younger and not retired when you make the request to your fund.

Get a Tax Offset for Spouse Contributions

If your spouse earns less than $40,000, consider making an after-tax contribution to their super.

By doing so, you could get up to a $540 tax offset while boosting their retirement savings.

Grab a Government Co-Contribution

If you earn less than $60,400 and at least 10% comes from work or running a business, you could be eligible for a government co-contribution. All you need to do is add up to $1,000 to your super and the government may add up to $500 extra.

Avoid the Division 293 Tax Trap

If your income (plus employer contributions) is over $250,000, you may pay an extra 15% tax on some of your super contributions.

Strategies like bringing forward expenses or deferring income may help keep you below the threshold.

Maximise Non-Concessional (After-Tax) Contributions

If you're under 75, you may be able to contribute up to $360,000 in one year using the bring-forward rule.

New rules from 1 July 2025 may allow you to contribute even more – speak with us about getting the timing right.

Take Your Minimum Pension Payment

If you're drawing a pension from your super, make sure you take the minimum amount by 30 June.

Missing the minimum may affect your fund's tax benefits for the whole year.

Age	Minimum Pension
Under 65	4%
65-74	5%
75-79	6%
80-84	7%
85-89	9%
90-94	11%
95 or more	14%

Australian Vending Supplies operated by Vincent and Geoff Guthrie are back supplying products to the vending industry.

Our wholesale supply business is operated in Rosewater, Adelaide with the ability to source all markets throughout Australia both through carton(s) or pallet freight.

Our new suppliers have not only enabled us to import new lines with great quality products in capsules that are more visible and at a more competitive landed price to then enable us to pass on better pricing to the customer base.

REDEMPTION STICKERS

A lot of discussion has been had regarding the quality/price of prizes that are on offer in Prize Redemption games and the feedback from customers is that young children are 'seduced' into playing some redemption games that have major prizes of Playstation's, mobile phones. iPods etc.

NAMOA has stickers which are reversed printed and attached to the inside glass of Prize Redemption games, according to the value of the prize.

MEMO RE NAMOA REPRESENTATIVES

Please be aware that the Representatives listed are also business people like yourselves and are often unable to answer your phone call immediately, so it is important that you always leave a message and your details, and I am sure that they will return your call as soon as possible.

Personally, if I do not recognise the number, I often tend to let the call go to my Message Bank as I do receive quite a few scam calls!

(Scammers do not leave messages)
